

911, What's Your Emergency?

Category: ✓ General English

Topic: ✓ Emergency

Media: ✓ Audio

Level: ✓ B2-C1 Upper-Intermediate / Advanced

Grammar: ✓ Compound Relative Pronouns

Learning Focus: ✓ Grammar, Listening, Speaking, Vocabulary

Task 1

Match each compound relative pronoun to its correct usage.

- | | |
|--------------|----------------------------------|
| 1. whoever | a) any one from a limited set |
| 2. whatever | b) any time |
| 3. wherever | c) in any way |
| 4. whenever | d) any person |
| 5. whichever | e) any place |
| 6. however | f) any thing (unlimited choices) |

Task 2

Look at the picture and think about what is going on in the subway. Choose an emergency scenario that you think took place.

- Scenario 1: There was a fire in the subway, first responders came to help, and people were on their way to the hospital.
- Scenario 2: There was some kind of accident or attack in the subway, and first responders came to help the people who were injured.
- Scenario 3: Three dogs attacked some people in the subway, and first responders were called to control the situation and help the people involved.

Task 3

Choose the correct compound relative pronoun in each sentence.

1. Whoever / Whenever you are, you need to show yourself.
2. They can do however / whatever they want.
3. She has to be careful whichever / wherever she goes.
4. I have a blueberry muffin and a chocolate muffin. Take whichever / whoever one you prefer.
5. Whatever / However long it takes, he will wait for the police to arrive.
6. Whenever / Wherever you get here, we can go.